LOS ANGELES, June 1 /PRNewswire/ -- With locations in Orange County and Los Angeles, FINAL INCHES, the first Medical Body Shaping Center that specializes solely in Laser Liposculpture, a minimally-invasive procedure that permanently eliminates frustrating fat, announced today that they are helping their patients get ready for summer with their custom swimsuit giveaway. www.finalinches.com

"Certain areas of the body are genetically predisposed to store fat, including the waist, stomach, hips, thighs, and arms. This fat can be very difficult to reduce or eliminate through diet and exercise but at FINAL INCHES we remove this stubborn fat permanently, in about an hour," states Anh Ngo, MD, Board Certified Surgeon and Medical Director of FINAL INCHES. "With our Laser Liposculpture procedure, we permanently remove stubborn fat, reshaping our patients' bodies to create a slimmer, sleeker swimsuit-ready body." FINAL INCHES performs more Laser Liposculpture procedures than any other Southern California practice. www.finalinches.com

"We couldn't be happier designing custom swimsuits for FINAL INCHES' patients," states Jessica Neeper, National Sales Manager of Ginger's Island, one of the swimsuit companies partnered with FINAL INCHES in this promotion. "FINAL INCHES patients are some of our most enthusiastic customers because they come to us ready to show off their slimmer bodies. It's a real thrill working with them to design custom swimsuits that accentuate their curves and get them ready for the beach."

Qualifying for the free custom swimsuit is simple; patients only need to come in for a consult and have their slimming Laser Liposculpture procedure with FINAL INCHES before August 31, 2009. After the procedure, patients are then fitted for their free custom swimsuit to show off their new beach-ready body.

"Soon after the procedure, patients enjoy a decrease in fat and inches in the targeted areas," adds Dr. Ngo. "We want our patients' to look aesthetically pleasing this summer in their swimsuits but we also let our patients' know that our top priority is safety. I think our impeccable safety record and high satisfaction rate shows our expertise in the field of Laser Liposculpture."

Helping to make the swimsuit giveaway a success, FINAL INCHES teamed up with two of the top custom swimsuit shops in Southern California; Gingers Island in Orange County (Mission Viejo) and Turtle Beach Swimwear in West Hollywood. Both shops are known as top custom swimwear outfitters.
